

Adriatic Fig

Figs are separated into four main botanical categories; and within these categories are many commercial varieties. ADRIATIC WHITE FIGS are Bardajics, the main "common fig" variety. Black Missions, Brown Turkeys and Kadotas are other members of the "common" category. New Zealand is also shipping Genoas, another white variety. ADRIATIC FIGS have green skin with pink flesh that deepens to red as they ripen. The flavor is rich with a raspberry character. ADRIATIC FIGS are particularly good fresh.

SUPC: 4364279 (Description does not specify variety)

Pack: 1 layer tray

Availability: March through May (from New Zealand)

Ship: Airfreight

Yield: 100%

Count: 16 to 32

Storage/Handling: 38F

Notice: 1 day

(Last Updated: 9/26/2006
8:57:21 AM PST)